Warm greetings to all members of the IGT Family. We are at the threshold of celebrating a three year relationship. The years that have gone by have been eventful, in more ways than one. But most important has been our ability to understand each other better and the focus on improving reliability and consistency of our services. We are engaged in building the tomorrow that our children deserve and expect of us. Every one of us has a tremendous responsibility towards this. A lasting legacy is not all the riches and wealth that we leave behind but the values that we successfully implant in the next generation. Wealth is temporary, Values are lasting. In keeping with this responsibility India Gateway Terminal has been emphasizing the importance of Health, Safety and Hygiene. "When health is lost, all is lost" is ancient wisdom that has outlived generations of skeptics. Health and safety are intertwined. An unsafe employee not only puts himself at risk at the workplace, but endangers the life of his colleagues. Personal hygiene and a regard for the environment is paramount in ensuring that the society which we populate is richer by our presence. I exhort all members of the IGT Family to spread the important values of Health, Safety and Hygiene through personal example as values are embedded better than when they are consistently demonstrated. Inculcation of values requires one to consistently "walk the talk".
