

How do you feel working with your father?

Pratheesh TP : It is always a nice feeling working with our relatives and the person being my father makes it much better. The best thing I feel about working together is that our understanding of each other has improved. Although we aren't in the same department, we still got to bond much well.

T.P. Prathapan

Do you feel happy working with your parent at DP World Cochin?

Able Francis : Yes, indeed I am very much happy to get an opportunity at DP world and to work with my father. I am really satisfied with the exposure I have received here.

How do you feel working together for the same organization?

Sharon Das NR : I am undoubtedly very happy to work in the same organization with my father. It has helped me to realize the nature of his work. It has brought me much more closer to him.

T. S. Ramadas

What are the advantages of working together?

Prakash P : Working together is very comfortable. The understanding between us helps to work and communicate easily. It also helps to solve problems at work.

N. Prabbakarapillai

What is your opinion of, father-son working together?

NN Raju : I am happy that my son got an opportunity to work with DP World Cochin.

N.R. Ranjith

Does, your son come to you for guidance and advises? What do you tell him?

Alby George : Yes, I do advise and guide my son, to make use of his abilities to the best use possible for the organization and that he must be an inspiration to all who work with him.

Arandez Alby

Do you guide your son in work related matters?

Madhavan TK : Yes, like any other parent, I assume the responsibility of guiding my son in his work matters. Though the advancement of knowledge on the academic and technical education of the present generation seems superior, I still believe the experience & training I have gained over the years in my career cannot be considered less. I do advice him in making the best use of the opportunity available.
